Dear Yuri,

Many, many thanks for the xeroxed packet and your note. My husband and I eagerly pored over the contents. Also, thank you for inviting me to join your group and share your ^{love} work. I felt so welcome. I loved being with you and being part of this historic effort.

Went to the general assembly the next day to hear the very eloquent and inspiring Rep. Natani and then later to hear Sparky Matsunaga.

What was very interesting to me was people being willing to relate their camp experiences to me when I introduced myself.

It was truly wonderful to be with so many Japanese working for redress. I guess your husband told you about going to the Smithsonian the next day for an explanation of the Japanese exhibition to open in the Fall.

I have xeroxed the redress brochure to send to two re-evaluation counseling leaders who are interested in civil rights issue.

Let me know if and when you're in D.C. Our paths are bound to cross.

Aloha,
