RACE TO OBLIVION: a film

Burt Lancaster

Shigeko Sasamori

A film for today, w

Exploring the most important issue of today—the suicidal nuclear arms RACE TO OBLIVION. The film features Burt Lancaster, Shigeko Sasamori, Hiroshima survivor, and a distinguished group of experts who explain the effects of nuclear war on the human body and psyche, our communities, our planet. RACE TO OBLIVION conveys a message of extreme urgency, with a spirited call for preventative action.

Written and produced for PSR by Academy Award winner, Edmund H. North, directed by Robert Churchill.

"Shigeko Sasamori's story must be heard, if we are ever to stop the 'RACE
TO OBLIVION' . . . excellent."
