ROHWER... by Lionelle Hamanaka takes us behind the scenes to Rohwer Camp in Arkansas with the Shimono family. We share in the mundane routines, unionizing attempts, and even a romance. ROHWER is a world premiere and developed with Pan Asian Rep.

BEHIND ENEMY LINES... by Rosanna Yamagiwa Alfaro is a study of the psychological and emotional deterioration of the Toda family as they are moved from Tanforan to Topaz, and finally, to Tule Lake. BEHIND ENEMY LINES was first read as part of Pan Asian Rep's workshop two years ago and is now receiving its New York Premiere.

STATION J... by Richard France examines with clinical intensity factors leading to—and the aftermath of—internment. This epic spans 16 years in 20 scenes with 41 roles; it appeals to the intellect, conscience and heart. A New York Premiere.
