Dear Sue,

Hi! Thanks for your note. It's good to hear from other Asians spread out around the country.

We really have no set subscription rate for our newsletters and other publications, so any amount would be greatly appreciated -- especially right now, as there are a few of us with trials coming up and we are in need of money to help pay for the heavy legal expenses, etc., etc.

The Asian American movement is rapidly developing here on the east coast. What we're trying to do now is improve and keep communications flowing among all the various groups situated in different locales, as well as keep in contact with groups in the west. In April, we're tentatively planning to hold an eastern conference at Yale. Topics are yet to be decided upon, but will let you know further details as this thing develops.

What we'd really like is to see the movement develop in the mid-west area, so that we'd have a link-up over the whole country. What do you think the possibilities are? I have names of a few individuals in the midwest who are interested in starting something in their specific areas. I'll pass them on to you, and maybe you could get in touch with them and work together to get things going.... Their names and addresses are:

Michael Yasukawa
1325 West Winona
Chicago, Illinois 60640

Sasha Hohri
2032 Eastwood Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60625

Eizo Nishiura
848 Sewaard
Detroit, Michigan 48202

Samuel Yamashita
1033 East University #3
Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104

Gail Katagiri
445 No. Lake Street
Madison, Wisconsin

Anyway, hope to hear from you soon. Please let us know what's happenin' in your area. Also, if you would want to write any articles for the newsletter, please send them to us and we'll be more than happy to publish them -- in fact, in our next newsletter, we'll have reports from the different groups in New York and AASA at Yale. And we hope to continue to provide information for, say, groups out west, about what's going on in the east and maybe, the midwest.

Yours in the Liberation Struggle,

ASIAN AMERICANS FOR ACTION
